SELF-DEFENSE

Develop the ability to defend yourself and your family. The Mako Defense Instinctive Shooting course will provide you with the skill and confidence to face any threat with your pistol. Those who keep a carbine or rifle in their home for defense against violent crime must attend the Counter-Terror Carbine course.

Our Israeli Advanced Combat Skills course will bring your skills to a level higher than those of most firearm instructors.

This level of instruction has never before been available to civilians in the United States.

MILITARY

Today's military faces a tough war against terrorists and insurgents. Israeli Special operations troops have spent decades refining the best techniques for fighting this type of enemy. Our military personnel should have the opportunity to learn these techniques. The Mako Defense Courses, taught by veteran counter-terror experts, are ideal train-the-trainer courses. Leaders who attend these courses can teach the advanced skills to their troops.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Israeli Method of training addresses many of the unique challenges faced by law enforcement officers. With training focused on the ability to operate effectively as an individual or in teams of as few as two officers, Mako Defense training courses are as valuable to law enforcement agencies as they are to the military. Several instructors have served in both military special operations units and elite law enforcement units.

SECURITY

Mako Defense instructors have extensive experience using and teaching executive protection and security-oriented tactics, both in Israeli government service and in the private sector. Give your personnel advanced, world-class training and take your organization to a new level of professionalism. Individual security personnel will find that Mako Defense training will hone their skills and enhance their marketability.

Military units, law enforcement agencies, or security firms may contact The Mako Group to schedule exclusive courses. More advanced team tactics, medical, and special-skill courses are also available.
